FIRM AS GIBRALTOR

Stood Our Representative, Says
Speaker Wilson of Mr.
Pogue.

Oct. 17th, 1911.

Hon. Marion F. Pogue,
Fredonia, Ky.

Dear Marion:—I understand that you have opposition for re-election in the person of Albert Butler, and I take this means of expressing to you my hope to see you returned to Legislature.

While I will not be a member of the next House I feel a deep interest in my State and in the Legislature. Having been Speaker of the last House, I was in a position to notice your every move and I want to assure you that there was no man there who came nearer being what a Representative ought to be than yourself. You did valiant service for the tobacco growers of your district and the State generally in assisting in the passage of the bills giving the farmers a right to pool their tobacco, and but for you I doubt very much if some of the bills would now be on our statute book, especially those vetoed by Governor Willson, which we had to pass over his veto. I also noted with pleasure the firm stand you always took on the side of the temperance people in trying to pass the "county unit bill." Every vote you cast was in the interest of this bill. I also remember what a fight we had in trying to keep Governor Willson's pet measures, the bill to raise the tax rate on the people, and the bill to issue State Bonds against our commonwealth, from passing, and had it not been for your assistance the Bond bill would have been taken from the hands of the Committee on Rules, of which you are a member, and permitted to pass. We had quite a fight to keep the tax rate from being raised and the bond bill from passing, and I congratulate the people of your district in having a man like you there, who was able to assist in defeating the measures.

I hope they will make no mistake, and regardless of party, will give you a big majority and send you back.

Very Truly Yours,
GEO. S. WILSON.

Synod of Kentucky.

The announcement was made that the Synod of Kentucky of the Northern Presbyterian church will convene at the Second Presbyterian church in Lexington on Friday night, October 27, and continue in session October 31. One hundred and twenty-five churches are represented in the Synod, and more than one hundred representative ministers and laymen will attend the meeting, which will be opened Friday night with a sermon by the Rev. Peyton H. Hoge, of Louisville, the retiring moderator, who will also preside until the newly-elected moderator assumes the gavel.

Mrs. Greathorse Weds, or Joins Her Husband, Which?

Mrs. Julia Dollins Greathorse, who came from British Columbia last year to visit at her old home left here last week ostensibly for Hot Springs Ark. where it is said she will apply for a divorce from her husband whom she has not heard from in sometime and whom she supposes is still in Canada. She will be then united in marriage to another gentleman who left here with her and whose name we learn is A. Warner of Clinton, Mo.. Her friends here hope she will be happy in her newly wedded life.

A LATER REPORT.

One of Mrs. Greathorse friends in speaking of the romance above referred to, said it was her opinion that the man who came for her last week and who left here with her was none other than her Canadian husband who had made up his mind to come to the U. S. to live in a climate which suits his wife. We understand that this has been her hope ever since she left Canada and returned here and we hope her dream is now realized, and that she and her husband may live happily in Uncle Sam's domain.

Pogue Answers Independent Voter.

Frances, Ky., Oct. 19, 1911.

Mr. Editor:—Independent voter in last week's Record-Press puts some questions to the candidates for Representative. The questions are both reasonable and competent. I cheerfully answer:—First, I shall, if elected, cast my vote for that big hearted, big brained friend of the common people, Hon. Ollie M. James, for United States Senator.

Second: In regard to schools, I stand for the elimination of all centralization, dissemination and red tape from the present laws, giving the people home rule and every child an equal showing for an education, also wipe out every feature of double taxation and loop hole for graft.

Third: I stand squarely on my party platform for the extension of the county unit.

Fourth: I believe in direct legislation or questions effecting the public welfare; then favor such changes as will permit the people to propose, accept or reject legislation.

Respectfully Submitted
MARION F. POGUE.

Butler's Reply.

Dear sir:—

I wish to state to the voters of Crittenden county and Livingston county, that if I am elected representative, I shall support all the measures and principles enunciated in the republican Platform adopted by the state convention that nominated Judge O'Rear.

While in the legislature, I voted for the County unit and redistricting bills and will do so again and all other measures that are for the benefit of the farmers and laboring classes.

I will support any amendment to the common to the common school law that will be for the best interest of the school children and the taxpayers of the state.

I shall support for United States Senator, the choice of those who elect me.

TESS AND TED HERE

The long looked for and much advertised visit of "Tess and Ted" the Star Brand Shoes kids was made Tuesday.

They arrived on the 11 o'clock train from Sturgis and were met by the Marion silver Cornet Band and Carnahan Bros. and Dodge, the local agents of the "Star brand Shoes" and were escorted around the city in two big touring cars. The young people were attended by Miss Mary Wilson of Chicago and Mr. Pierce the salesman for "Roberts, Johnson and Rand Shoe Company." They were entertained at the Hotel Crittenden.

The entertainment was billed to take place at 4:30 and a grand stand had been erected in the street in front of Carnahan Bros and Dodge big double front store on corner of main and Salem sts. One of the biggest crowds ever seen on a similar occasion was present and hundreds of children were delighted. "Tess and Ted" certainly made a hit here and everybody fell in love with them.

Jeff Rich Dead.

As foretasted in last weeks paper Jeff Rich of the Mattoon section died at the Evansville sanitarium where his eye was removed. He never rallied and passed away Thursday morning Oct. 19th at 4 o'clock and was buried by the W. O. W's. at Mt. Zion Friday. The funeral procession was one of the longest ever seen in the county. He is survived by his wife, who is a daughter of Thos Butler of Crittenden springs section, and a grand daughter of James Butler of this city.

If you have any doubt of the merit of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey one bottle will remove that doubt and your cough at the same time. Look for the bell on the bottle. It is the genuine.

Mrs. Miles Flanary who was a delegate to the Grand Lodge of the Eastern Star which convened at Louisville also visited her parents Judge and Mrs. T. J. Nunn, at Frankfort returned home Tuesday.

Road Builders Busy

In M'Cracken County.

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 20.—At present there are 400 farmers of the county working the McCracken county roads. They are divided into twenty crews, and by the end of the month thirty miles of dirt roads will have been put in condition to stand the winter weather. Gravel is being used on most of them. The work is being done under the supervision of Road Supervisor, John Thomas. When the work is completed the roads will be in better condition than at any other time since they were built.

The automobile contest is still progressing nicely. Number 15 still leads but number 102 wins the set of dishes this week, by turning in the greatest number of votes.

Picks up Horseshoes; Falls Heir to $50,000

Connecticut Matron's Superstition Justified, For She Gets $1,- 000 for Every Nail

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 26.—Picking up horseshoes and saving them has brought Mrs. Adolph Miller, of this city, a fortune of $50,000, according to her statement today. Mrs. Miller has just received news from Hamburg, Germany, that by the death of her Uncle, Adolph Rholf a German Officer, she has been left $50,000 to do with as she pleases according to the wording of the will. All Mrs. Miller has to do is to go to Hamburg and get the fortune.

"It all comes from saving horseshoes," said Mrs. Miller as she pointed with pride to a row of them over the front door of her residence.

"It is an old saying that for each nails in the horseshoe you will receive some time in your life $1,000. I do believe that for I found it to be true, every bit of it. I have about twenty shoes now and that makes about 50 or 60 nails."

THE 20th KENTUCKY VOLUNTEER INFANTRY

An Interesting War Record by F.
S. Loyd, of Fredonia, Lieutenant Company H.

Saturday August 27th, at 2 o'clock a. m. orders came for us to take down our tents and send them back to the rear, and we laid in our works with our arms in hand expecting a charge from the enemy every moment. At dark we moved back to our new works and remained all night.
Very warm day; cool night.

Sunday August 28th. At 7 o'clock we received orders to be ready to move with a moment's warning. Struck tents, marched three miles and halted, cooked dinner, marched another three miles and camped near monon-gahalia church. Camped in the woods at nine o'clock; very dark marching; beautiful weather and good roads. Very warm day.

Monday August 29th, laid in camp until 10 o'clock. We drew rations, marched in front of our division, marched three miles and camped on a hill near Gen. Scofula's headquarters, built breast-works and remained for night.
Very warm days but cool nights.

Tuesday August 30th. At 6 o'clock we were ordered to be ready to move at a moment's warning, but did not go until 12 o'clock. Moved out to the right and marched about four miles and camped in an old field near the railroad, built breastworks and remained in them after we got them done about 25 minutes.
Moved down on the Montgomery & Atlanta railroad, camped in an old field. Very warm all day.

Wednesday August 31st. At 4 o'clock received orders to move out without any breakfast.
Moved to the right and stopped in an old field and then moved out by the right flank. Stopped for dinner and about the time the men got dinner half done, we received orders to fall in ranks. Marched seven miles and took two lines of the Rebels works they built. We remained in them all night. Some heavy fighting on our right. Very warm.

Thursday September 1st. Orders to move at 3 o'clock. Struck tents and were ready to move to the right. Moved up to the Atlanta & Macon railroad and tore it up, burning everything, ties and rails. Moved down the road tearing up the track as we went and destroyed the rails and everything that belonged to it.
Came up to Rough and Ready Station, halted for a few minutes for the 4th corps to pass. We marched on up the road, left the road and marched through an old field; marched through the thickest woods I ever saw. The troops marched through them back to the old field and massed our division in a small field and remained all night. Heavy fight-

Indigestion

causes heartburn, sour stomach, nervousness, nausea, impure blood, and more trouble than many different kinds of diseases.
The food you eat ferments in your stomach, and the poisons it forms are absorbed into your whole system, causing many distressing symptoms. At the first sign of indigestion, try

Thedford's Black-Draught

the old, reliable, vegetable liver powder, to quickly cleanse your system from these undesirable poisons.

Mrs. Riley Laramore, of Goodwater, Mo., says: "I suffered for years from dyspepsia and heartburn. Thedford's Black-Draught, in small doses, cured my heartburn in a few days, and now I can eat without distress." Try it.

Insist on Thedford's

ing on our right and in the direction of Atlanta, about fourteen miles. Very warm all day.

Friday September 2nd. At 8 o'clock we were ordered to march. Moved out south, crossing Flint river, a nice little stream. Came up to the Rebel hospital where there were a great many wounded and dead lying in the woods, without any tents or any sheets. Marched on crossing a little stream. I did not learn the name. We marched on up to the 4th corps. Had a very heavy little fight. Marched on until 9 o'clock in the night. Very dark. The army of Tennessee had a hard fought battle, taking 12000 prisoners and ten pieces of artillery, also all the dead and wounded fell into our hands.
Heavy rain nearly all day; men very tired and hungry. Halted for the night after eighteen mile march.

Saturday September 3rd. At 4 o'clock a. m. it commenced raining, rained very hard all day.
At 3 o'clock p. m. we were ordered to move. We moved about fifty yards, formed a line and built breastworks and remained there all night. Heavy picket fighting all day and night. Some cannonading. Several shells passed over our regiment but no one hurt.

Sunday, September 4th, laid in camp all day after we got our tents set in proper order. Inspection of arms and ammunition in the evening. Some shells passed over us; one bursted, but no one hurt. Beautiful day, cool nights.

Monday September 5th. I went out on picket early in the morning. Very warm until 1 o'clock when it commenced raining and rained as hard as I ever saw. The rebels commenced to shell us at 8 o'clock p. m. We struck tents and marched back toward Atlanta, marching all night through the rain and the muddiest roads I ever saw.
Some of the men got into the mud up to their hips. Marched on until about 3 o'clock. Our artillery could not get up the hill.
Men had to help the teams with long ropes. We halted in the road and lay down without orders and went to sleep and remained in the road until daylight then starting out on our march without any breakfast.

Flowers on Hat Saved Two Lives

Angered Boar Attacks Aged Couple—Victims Escape While He Devours Womans
Bonnet.

Owensboro, Ky., Oct. 19.— While entering the front gate of his home in the West Louisville vicinity, Burch, a confederate veteran, and his wife were attacked by a vicious hog and narrowly escaped fatal injuries. The boar first attacked Mr. Burch, biting him through the calf of the left leg and knocking him down. As he fell backward his head struck the sharp portion of a picket and he was knocked unconscious.

Seeing that her husband was in danger, Mrs. Burch secured a fence picket and ran into the yard, attempting to fight the angered hog off her husband's unconscious form. The animal met her at the gate, and biting her through the calf of the leg, knocked her down and bit her about the neck and shoulders.

Being attracted by the gaudy flowers on her hat, the animal began to tear it to pieces and Mrs. Burch succeeded in reaching her husband and attempted to get him into the house. Before she could close the door, however, the hog attacked her again and tore dress almost from her body.

wounds of neither are dangerous.

Plenty of Nuts.

According to those who have been in search of nuts it is said that hickory nuts and walnuts are unusually plentiful this year.
They were scarce last year and,
according to the old sign that every other year the trees bear well, this is the year for a good crop. It is not the real time for nutting until after frost, but there are some, especially the school boys, who cannot wait until then and have already gathered a good supply. The time was when a plentiful supply of nuts could be gathered almost in a stone's throw of town, but the number of trees is growing less each year and now one has to travel several miles on the same errand, but that does not keep the young folks from having nutting parties.

Germes Spread in Skin

Eczema, Psoriasis and other skin troubles are caused by myriads of germs at work in the skin. Unless these germs are promptly destroyed they multiply, gnawing their way deep into the sensitive tissue. This is what causes that awful itch, and what seemed a mere rash may grow worse and develop into a loathsome and torturing skin disease with its years of misery.

Don't take any chances! Destroy the germs at the beginning of the trouble with that soothing and cleansing wash, the D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema. A 25c bottle will prove this to you.

We have had experience with many remedies for skin trouble but have never seen such remarkable cures as those from D. D. D. Prescription. Instant relief from the very first application.

We are so confident that D. D. D. will reach your case that it will cost you nothing if the very first full size bottle fails to make good every claim. If you have skin trouble of any kind, we certainly advise you to drop in and investigate the merits of D. D. D. anyway. We know that D. D. D. will help you.

PLANS TO HARNESS THE OHIO RIVER

Louisville, Oct. 19.—As a result of efforts in interesting capital in a proposition to expend from thirty to forty million dollars in order to secure power by harnessing the Ohio river falls, a meeting under the auspices of the Engineers' and Architects' club will be held to-night in the club rooms in the Norton building for the purpose of going over the situation in detail.

A paper dealing with the proposition from an engineering standpoint will be read by W. M. Mitchell, following which a general discussion will be had. The meeting was called by G. W. Hubby, president of the Engineers' and Architects' club.

For years it has been a recognized fact among engineers that the harnessing of the falls is within the bounds of an engineering possibility. The question that will be passed on at to-night's meeting is whether the undertaking would be a commercial success. The plan contemplates the building of a canal ten miles long, tapping the river above and below. If carried out, it is believed, the water will furnish all the power the cities along the river for a distance of 200 miles may want.

An undertaking to harness the falls has been considered many times by engineering and commercial bodies in Louisville and each time the plan has been abandoned for the reason that it was decided to be impracticable. The last time the proposition received official notice was during the administration of Mayor Weaver. The first official notice it received was in 1806. It was then taken up by the leading engineers and business men of the city and abandoned.

The two old Confederate twins, M. W. and I. W. Franklin, were in the city Thursday to attend the reunion. One of them had whiskers 34 inches and the other 33 inches long. It is now said there are not two such other characters in the world. These two old men live at Old Baltimore, this county, went through the war, going together most of the time, and each have whiskers measuring almost three feet. In a difficulty at White Sulphur, three miles west of Princeton, John Lewis was seriously cut about the head and neck by John Coleman. The men met in the road, Lewis being in a buggy accompanying a young woman from the railway station to her home when Coleman attacked him, pulling him from the buggy and cutting him seriously if not fatally. During the affray, Lewis succeeded in getting a firm grip on Coleman's throat, choking him to the ground and would have succeeded in choking him to death had he not become exhausted from the loss of blood.

At 85 Digs His Own Grave.

Waterbury, Conn., Oct. 18.—In Winstead there are two Mike Griffins, Red Mike and Black Mike. Red Mike never rose to distinction, but Black Mike has been digging graves in St. Joseph's cemetery ever since the town can remember.

"And niver a wan av th' lot but what was dug right," says Black Mike.

Black Mike celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday last week. In the morning he finished digging a grave for an old friend. Then he considered his own future. "Faith, I'll dig me own an' have it right," said Black Mike.

He did, and at the head he placed a sign. "Reserved exclusively for Michael Griffin, Esq."

"I'll be needin' it some time," explained Mr. Griffin.

Red Mike Griffin viewed the proceedings from the fence. "Twa'd be a joke if I stole Black Mike's grave from him," he said.

Why do the papers talk of him, And run his picture every day? Perhaps he made a breakfast food Out of alfalfa hay.

Or maybe he has left his wife, To earn her living selling soap, A poet who has paid his bills, Or some new white man's hope.

But it is pleasanter to think He is a gem of purest gold, Some kindly man who ne'er repeats The thing his baby told.

TRIBUTE TO FAMOUS CATHOLIC

Noted Church Dignitaries At Fiftieth Anniversary of Priesthood Of Cardinal Gibbons.

Baltimore, Oct. 19.—In the cathedral here, where fifty years ago he was ordained a priest, then successfully consecrated a bishop invested with the pallium of an archbishop, and twenty-five years after his ordination received the red biretta of a cardinal, James, Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop of Baltimore, Sunday received homage from illustrious prelates and laymen from all parts of this country and foreign lands.

The ecclesiastical celebration of the cardinal's dual jubilee began in the morning with pontifical high mass, celebrated by the cardinal, with the Rev. Dr. P. C. Gavan, the chancellor of the archdiocese, sub-deacon. Archbishop John J. Glennon, of St. Louis, delivered the sermon which was an eloquent tribute to the head of the American Christian church.

The music was chiefly Gregorian, though there were intervals of figured music, and orchestral instruments were employed in the choir, relieving the otherwise somber color of the harmonies.

The decorations were confined to the sanctuary. The main altar was ablaze with hundreds of candles and radiant with thousands of Bermuda lilies. Over the altar were the arms of the church, with the dates of the jubilee, 1861, 1886 and 1911. Under them was the latin motto, "Jubilemus Deo Salutari Nostro,"—"Let us rejoice unto God, our Savior."

In the procession, which for impressiveness probably never has been surpassed in the country, were nine of America's twelve archbishops and about thirty bishops. Included among the archbishops were Diomed Falconio, the apostolic delegate, and Paul Bruchesi, of Montreal. Among the bishops was Hugh McSnelly, of South Africa.

There were three civilians in the line. They were W. E. Man-kins, of N. Y., who received the decoration of knighthood in the order of St. Gregory at the hand of the Pope. He wore a scarlet waistcoat, on which gleamed several jeweled decorations. The other two civilians were Aristides Leonardi, of Rome, and Edward Du Mee, of Philadelphia, both of whom wore the scarlet coats of apostolic chancellors and marched beside the apostolic delegate.

the American Catholics for their constant "well-known loyalty to the Holy See," and offered to Cardinal Gibbons his felicitations on the occasion of his two-fold jubilee, giving him high praise for his "glorious career."

Archbishop John M. Farley, of New York, in lauding the cardinal for what he had accomplished for the Catholic faith in America, expressed the hope that eventually he would be seated upon the throne of the vatican.

In response to a toast to the President of the U. S., Archbishop John Ireland, said President Taft had not discriminated against Catholics, and that while he had given them no more than their due, they were grateful to him.

The cardinal, rising at the end of the dinner, said the prejudices which formerly existed against Catholicism in this country were almost exterminated. He charged the bishops and archbishops around him with the command to garner by the end of another 50 years 100,000,000 souls for the Catholic Church in this country.

Archbishop Falconio presided at the vespers in the cathedral at night, and the sermon was delivered by Archbishop James H. Blenk, of New Orleans.

The Most Rev. James H. Blenk, archbishop of New Orleans, preached at the solemn vesper service which concluded the day's services.

ARE YOU FOR OLLIE JAMES?

If So, Vote For Pogue.

Owing to the cumbersome manner of electing U. S. Senators we do not vote directly for them, but must delegate our Representatives and State Senators to cast our vote for us. So the friends of Ollie James must bear this in mind when they cast their ballots on November 7th.
If you vote for Mr. Pogue, he is pledged to Mr. James.

While Mr. James is the choice not only of his own party, but of thousands of independent voters in the state. So bear in mind that a vote for Pogue is a vote for our own Ollie whom the nation is proud to honor.

Democrats who are "agin" Ollie, are like hen's teeth, hard to find; but on the other hand, scores of Republicans who admire their big hearted fellow citizen, and want see him rewarded for his years of patient toil in the behalf of the toiling millions will vote for Marion F.
Pogue; because a vote for Pogue is a vote for James.

TOBACCO TIDINGS.

BY R. F. WHEELER.

THINK ABOUT IT.

The article to follow appeared in the Evening Journal of yesterday. It is an elaboration of an article in yesterday's Gleaner.
It's reproduction today is due to the request of all the farmers:
"Certain growers in the county
know that their crops last year would have been delivered at an average of seven cents but for the Stemming Association. As it was, they delivered at 50 cents more on the hundred for fired tobacco, and also got seven cents average for the unfired.

"Certain growers in the county were paid a dividend of three dollars on the 1910 crop by a pool whereof they were members.
These same growers now know that, had they been members of the Stemming Association, they had received on their 1910 crop $6.10 on fired, and $7.10 on unfired tobacco, as dividends.

"Nor is this all, for all the growers in this county are persuaded, and are warranted in believing, that but for the precipitate and ill advised sale, or semblance of a sale, of that other pool last year, the Stemming Association could and would have realized an average of quite 50 cents more per hundred on every pound of tobacco in Henderson county and in the district—for every grower—in or out of the Association.

"Wherefore certain growers conclude the Stemming Association is the better salesman of the two, and some, a goodly list, have already authorized, and others if not all, will authorize the Stemming Association, rather than another to make sale of this 1911 short crop. And the association heartily welcomes all, and will bust a hame string or prove itself a salesman.

"For while the crop is short on quantity, it is long on quality, and your Uncle William Elliot and your other uncles, on the district board, think they see a way to realize remunerative prices for this 1911 short crop.
And the fewer the unpooled crops the better the price will be.

FACE UP.

"You are playing the association's hand face up," said a good member to you yesterday.

"You refer to my printed report of the talk of two members of the association, I presume."

"Just that," he answered.

"That was quite frank," I commented. And that is the associations way. The association don't work like a mole—underground.
The association's mission is to protect its members against the greed and cunning of the tobacco trust monopoly. Noble and legitimate, therefore, is the mission of the association. The association has, since the very beginning, played its hand face up, while the tobacco trust has ever worked like a mole—underground.

All know that when a big crop of tobacco is produced, the buyers trust or no trust, on pretense of overproduction, have ever taken the crop at a price so inadequate as to impoverish farmers.

Then why under the shining dome shouldn't an underproduc-tion command a bigger price than the average?

One of the oldest buyers on this market, a man who keeps accurate records of the local market, told this writer that for 35 years the average price paid on this market was five cents. Another buyer, regarded as equally accurate, declared the average, for the period mentioned, had been four and three-quarter cents. Each spoke from his own records, which accounts for the discrepancy.

Result—worn-out lands, farm buildings inadequate and depreciated, farmers impoverished and tenants and wives and children ill-housed, ill-nourished, ill-clad, underpaid and forced to leave the farms.

The sales committee of this association have never asked an unreasonable price for any crop, but have ever been denied that reasonable price. The sales committee of this association will again name a reasonable price for this short crop and make an earnest effort to effect a sale for loose delivery. For the committee knows that will suit members better than to prize. The committee also knows that will suit buyers best. And, it will be better for all the people in all the counties.

But the committee is in a better position than ever before to safeguard the rights of members.
And in case it becomes necessary to prize the committee knows it can depend on the loyal support of the members.

Then why shouldn't I play the association's hand face up? For in that hand are high, low, jack and the game, also a royal flush, and big and little casino—if only the cards are played according to Hoyle.

And Manager Elliott and the members of the district board, while not card sharps, are not without skill sufficient to prevent the ringing in of a cold deck.

A Quiet Wedding in Repton Vicinity.

T. W. Miller and Miss Susie McKee were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.

T. W. Miller is formerly a citizen of Evansville, Ind., and Miss Susie McKee is the highly esteemed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McKee, of this Co., near Repton, were married Wednesday at 6 o'clock, p. m., Oct.
18th, at the bride's home, attended by Ernest Payne and Miss Montie Stanley.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Spence, of Blackford, and who is pastor of Cave Spring church. Quite a number of the bride's friends were present to witness the solemn ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller took the south bound train the next day leaving Repton at 11 o'clock a. m., for Hopkinsville, where they were met by Mr. Miller's brother-in-law, Herman, who resides in Todd county near the famous Pilot Rock. The newly married couple will visit friends and relatives in Todd county for several days after which time they will return to the bride's home for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller anticipates making their future home in Todd county or at least for the next year.

The writer and their many friends, of the couple, extend to them greatest congratulations, wishing them many happy years to live together, and we all join in on wishing their pathway to ever be strewn with the most fragrant flowers and may all their troubles be "little ones."

SEVEN SPRINGS

Rev. U. G. Hughes, our pastor at Seven Springs church, assisted by Rev.
E. B. Blackburn, both of Marion, commenced a revival meeting at this place on Monday Oct. 9th. The meeting continued ten days. There were more than a score of souls saved, and twenty-four additions to the church. Rev.
Blackburn did some excellent preaching. It seemed that the unconverted were moved from the first start and the church was greatly revived. I don't believe there was a christian attended those services that did not feel the presence of the Holy Spirit power, and I don't believe there was an unsaved person attended those services that did not feel impressed to seek a home in Heaven when done with the toils and cares of life, but alas, many rejected God and said to his spirit, "go thy way, at a more convenient season I'll call for Thee." But Jesus has said, "My spirit shall not always strive with man." But we trust that our good Lord will spare their lives until they may be able by the grace of God to say, "I am ready" and we, as children of God, are hoping and trusting to meet in that "Haven of Rest." Those good preachers, Revs. Blackburn and Hughes, who so faithfully warned the people to flee the wrath to come, for God says in His word, "if ye fail to war then, My blood will I require at your hand." But many would not listen to the warnings. The writer was present every day of the services and I don't think I ever saw ministers of the gospel plead more earnestly with a people than did these.

Now in conclusion, I will say, I hope in yonder world to meet the congregation that I worshiped with at Seven Springs together with all the redeemed host of God in that home above, that building not made with hands, eternal in the Heavens, is the desire and prayer of your correspondent.

GOOD LIVER REMEDY FREE

When you suffer from any form of indigestion it is always well to take something for the liver, as usually the trouble lies there. If you are bilious, have a bloated feeling after eating, if you feel that your skin is yellowish you may be sure it is liver trouble.

What you need is something to stir up the liver, to arouse the gastric juices so that they will aid in the digestion of your food. A very good remedy for this, and one highly recommended by those who have used it, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which you can obtain of any druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. But if you have any doubt about its merits, and would prefer to try it first, send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will promptly send you a free sample bottle.

Thousands of people first learned of this remarkable cure for stomach, liver and bowel troubles through a free sample. Mrs. Frank Lilly of Plainview, Ill., sent for one and it cured her and she is open in saying that she will never take pills or strong cathartics again, as Syrup Pepsin acts so mildly. Mr. W. L. Bryant, the Postmaster at Sardis, Tenn., says he will never be without it again. No sick person can afford to ignore a remedy so highly endorsed as this. It is good for all the family from infancy to old age, because it is mild, free from griping and yet promptly effective. Furthermore, results are absolutely guaranteed or money will be refunded.

For the free sample address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 402 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Hogwallow News.

The deacons of the Dog Hill church have appointed Ellick Hellwanger and Yam Sims a committee to go up close to the hornets nest at the church and ascertain how long it will be before services can again be resumed there.

A stranger came into Hogwallow this week. He is peddling out territory for a patent stove-eye, and sold Fletcher Henstep half of the United States for three dollars.

A swarm of yellow-jackets pursued the deputy constable for a considerable distance yesterday, and they were not driven back until he had turned and fired several shots at them from behind a stump.

The mail carrier did not make his usual trip to Tiekville and return this week. He started out on regular time from the Hogwallow postoffice Monday morning, but before progressing far he had the misfortune to see a black cat cross the road in front of him.

A blind man living near Bounding Billows has been almost persuaded to join the Excelsior Fiddling band. This will be a good improvement for the band, but it will be an awful strain on the blind man.

Miss Royola Mosely handed in a society item this week to the effect that she had been the charming guest at the home of the Butts girls.

Miss Fruzie Allsop will entertain a few choice friends Monday afternoon in honor of the new moon.

It is rumored that Ellick Hellwanger is preparing to elope with the jailer's daughter at Tiekville. If such does happen it will be a romantic culmination of a happy courtship which started when she began to play on the organ while Ellick was in jail.

The arithmetic class at the Wild Onion school house has been hopelessly hung up this week on an example. The problem has to do with the age of Miss Hostetter Hooks.

Luke Mathews is preparing to apply for a pension on account of his having been badly frightened during the war.

Prof. Sap Spradlen has donned a new shirt, a better pair of pants and some new shoes and on this account he is expecting the trustees to make some corresponding improvements on the school house.

Jefferson Potlocks is packing up and preparing to move over on the west side of Musket Ridge, where he can sleep longer every morning on account of the sun rising later.

Sidney Hooks dreamed last night that he was kicked by a mule. The horse doctor was called this morning, but could not find no broken bones.

Atlas Peck spent a few days of this week in the Calf Ribs section, and upon his return was accompanied by a brindle cow.

Toke Mosely has filed a claim on and taken possession of two persimmon trees near Hog

Miss Fruzie Allsop's new hat caused Poke Eazley's mule to run away Tuesday evening. The mule ran for some distance when it reached the forks of the road and then being undecided as to which way to go, stopped and turned back.

Cricket Hicks spent Saturday afternoon at the Hog Ford church tracing down the pedigree of a rabbit dog he is about to swap his spotted cow for.

Raz Barlow has blossomed out in a new hat and celluloid collar. He is getting himself to look just about right in order to make a lasting impression on a girl with a farm in the Calf Ribs community. If Raz gets to stirring about too much we will have to enlarge our society columns.

The season for yarn socks and sorghum molasses is in the near distance. The pumpkin is also about ready to roll out into the corn row and hump its yellow back to catch the early morning frost.

The old miser who has been living in the deserted cabin in the Gander Creek bottoms has moved into a house on Musket Ridge, where he will be closer to Atlas Peck's sweet potato patch.

The postmaster says that no more stovepipes will be sent through the postoffice as mail matter.

The best plaster. A piece of flann dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bound on over the affected parts is superior to a plaster and costs only one tenth as much. For sale by all dealers.

THE MINISTER'S SON.

They say that the minister's boy is wild and wicked and bad, that he is shiftless, lazy and thriftless, short on ambition, long on straw rides, pool and poker, shy on useful work, churlish, boorish, a ninny, and a nance.

Compared with other boys, we are told by those who pretend to know, he is everything that they are not and nothing that they are. The one builds and enriches the world by his industry they and the other, contributing nothing in helpful effort to the civilization of which he is a part, lives by the brawn, and the brain of his brother. One wins the big prizes of life and the other, inert, inept, muscle-bound and indifferent, though alike in origin and destiny to the other boy, is a straggler in the procession, just so much flotsam on the sea of progress. If it were true—but it isn't—this would be a severe indictment of that vast army of hard working, honest, sincere, whole souled and whole hearted men, who for a comparatively small pittance, work night and day to keep us on the straight path and out of jail, and to whom we have recourse as a faithful friend, when we want to place that little gold circlet on the finger of the girl we love, or need some one to christen the baby, bring cheer and comfort to the sick and send the dead properly accredited to Peter at the pearly gate.

When the fellow with a grievance against the minister's boy hikes along with his bile, remind him that Samuel Finley Breese Morse, the inventor of the telegraph, which broke down the feudal walls of the old world and made the universe akin, by bringing the most isolated and remote corner of the habitable globe into instant touch with the centres of civilization, was a minister's son and the grandson of Jonathan Edwards one of the greatest preachers who ever lived. Tell him that Grover Cleveland and Chester Allan Arthur, two of the twenty-seven Presidents of the United States were minister's sons and regarded it as an asset and a help rather than a handicap.

And that General Nathaniel Greene, the trusted friend and ally of Washington, at the battles of Trenton, Princeton, Germantown and Brandywine, was the God fearing son of a patriotic Quaker dominee and was none the less useful as a citizen because he was valorous as a soldier. Also Joseph Addison, the English author and master word painter; William Cowper, the poet, Charlotte Bronte and John Fletcher, disciples of Parnassus, whose muse and writings set the world a thinking, were the children of clergymen. So were the late E. H. Harriman, the genius who standardized American railroads, and "Bob" Ingersoll, who sored by the hardships endured by his mother, through the fickleness of country congregations in shifting his father from pillar to post in search of a meagre living, became with Voltaire and Paine, one of the world's greatest free thinkers and the principal apostle of the new "show me" philosophy. K. M. Turner, the brilliant contemporary of Thomas A. Edison and Alexander Graham in electrical research, inventor of the acousticon, the dictograph, the interior telephone and other useful devices that make for present day efficiency, lays it to his father, Parson "Jim" Turner, a quiet, thoughtful Baptist preacher of Indiana, that he is what he is. Another conspicuous son of a Baptist clergyman who credits the helpful influence of his father with being a potential factor in his climb to fame is Charles Evans Hughes, former Governor of New York and now associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

So when the fellow with the grouch on the Minister's boy comes around, and begins to hammer, just remember these things. Pass 'em out to him and it'll wake him up. If he's made of the right stuff he'll feel like a boob for talking the way he does and maybe he'll wish that he too was a minister's boy.

CROSS LANES

Well, here comes Cross Lanes again. Hope we are welcome after being silent so long.

Health in this section, is not good at this writing.

Mrs. Sallie Moore and grand-daughter, Miss Fultie Nunn, were pleasant callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Moore, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Williams and little son made a flying to Marion Saturday.

Mrs. Kate O'Neal visited Mrs. Lucy Moore Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamp Wolfe are the proud parents of two fine boys, which arrived at their home Oct. 12th.

Miss Kitty Crisp spent Tuesday evening with Miss Ruby L. Moore.

Bros. Lane and Vaughn closed a two weeks' meeting at Baker Friday night, with only two conversions. Each and every christian did their part toward getting sinners saved and we feel that their prayers will not be in vain.

Tuesday evening Oct. 4th, 1911, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Truitt, and took from their loving and tender embrace their beautiful little son, Glen. He was sick only a few days. Glen was a bright beautiful little babe, petted and loved by all who knew him. But God saw fit to take him home. He has gone to a far more beautiful and better place than this, to a home where sickness and sorrow never comes. We say to the sorrowing ones, grieve not for little Glen for we know he is with Jesus and His angels. Glen is now standing on that bright heavenly shore waiting and watching for papa and mama to come home. We know it is hard to give him up but dear ones it does not mean separation for ever. We can not bring him back but we can go to him. We know your home is lonely but let us prepare ourselves to meet little Glen in that bright and happy home where pain nor death never comes, where peace and love forever more. Little Glen was laid to rest in the Mt. Zion cemetery Oct. 5th, the funeral services were conducted by Bro. Hyde. Glen leaves father, mother and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. We say to the bereaved ones, weep not, for God doeth all things well. Oh, mother, why not release thy hold and lay me down to sleep, our Savior will gather His lambs to His fold. Now mother do weep, this earth is cold and drear, polluted with vice and sin, its habitations without rest and cheer. Christ came my soul to win, now fold my hands across my breast and gently lay me down to sleep. Oh, mother, how peaceful the rest, my joy is full, do not weep. Oh, mother and father, when life is o'er and you are wearied with strife meet your darling boy on yonder shore and enjoy the heavenly life.

A precious one from us has gone
A voice we loved is still A place is vacant in your home
That never can be filled.

Shorthorn Cattle Killed in Wreck

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 19.—Eleven head of premium short horn cattle, valued at $40,000, and belonging to the Elmendorf stock farm of James B. Haggin, were killed in a railroad wreck near Asheville, N. C. This intelligence was received by C. H. Berryman, manager of Elmendorf, in a telegram. The cattle were in the Elmendorf farm private stock car returning from the Virginia State Fair at Richmond. No details of the wreck were given, other than it happened near Farrell, N. C. which is near Asheville, and that all the stock in the car except a bull calf were killed.

Another car loaded with fine Shropshire sheep, which had been exhibited by the Elmendorf farm at Richmond, was only

Involves Expenditure of $1,000,000

Washington, Oct. 18.—Plans for the erection of a great Presbyterian temple in honor of the memory of the late Justice Harlan, of the supreme court of the United States, are being considered here. It is suggested that $1,000,000 be raised by subscription throughout the country to build the temple. Justice Harlan, during the latter years of his life, hoped to interest Presbyterians in the erection of a temple, to be the meeting place of the governing body of the church, and the plan proposed by friends here is to carry out his idea and at the same time provide an appropriate memorial to the distinguished jurist.

The Gray Now the Blue.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 19.—James McLaughlin, probably the oldest living Confederate veteran, yesterday celebrated the ninety-fifth anniversary of his birthday at St. Joseph's hospital, where he has made his home for several years. His room at the hospital was decorated by the Catholic sisters of the institution, and a large United States flag was draped above the old soldier's bed. The veteran Confederate saluted when he saw the flag and remarked: "They're not my colors, but I must take off my hat to them, as you have put them there."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Boys Here's Your Chance.

St. Louis, Oct. 19.—Miss Gertrude Burk, of Chicago, largest woman in the world, weighing two and one half times as much as President Taft, is visiting at the home of Mrs. H. W. Hayes, in Alton, Ill.

Miss Burk is 22 years old, weighs 825 pounds, stands 5 feet 7 inches and some of her measurements are: Arm, 28 inches, waist, 64; bust, 75. She wears No. 4 1-2 shoes and No. 7 gloves. When she was born Miss Burk weighed 15 pounds and at 8 years old she weighed 250. At the Hayes home she sits on two chairs placed facing each other.

Miss Burk goes through doors by turning sideways, and it is a pretty hard squeeze at that. The Hayeses have an iron bed which Miss Burk occupies and thus obviates the chances of her dreams being disturbed by crashing furniture.

Efforts have been made by showmen to get Miss Burk to exhibit herself, but she has never been tempted. Her parents left her an estate and she does not need the money.

CHILD BOILED IN A MOLASSES KETTLE

Two Year Old Son of Farmer Dies Upon Being Pulled From Vat.

The two-year-old son of Simon Raymond, a farmer on the east fork of Salt river, three miles from Southville, in Bullitt county, met a horrible death late Thursday afternoon, being scalded in a vat of boiling sorghum molasses. The father was burned about the hands in a frantic effort to save his child's life.

The child was seated on a chair near the boiler. It is believed that in attempting to rise the little one lost his balance and plunged head foremost into the vat. Several members of the family were horrified by witnessing the accident. They pulled the child out as quickly as possible.

His body was coated with the boiling molasses, and when an effort was made to scrape it off the flesh was pulled from the bones. He expired a few minutes after being taken from the vat. —Louisville Times.

ficient before us to warrant saying this and we believe business is this time meant so do those who know of the live little city of Harrisburg believe.

Survey after survey has been made across different portions of Hardin county during the past year in a running way yet the ground was measured every foot of it as passed over through the medium of a steel tape and it now leaks out that the matter is settled and a railroad extension is to be made from Gallatin, Ill. (Saline County) to the bridging point on the Ohio river at Cave-in-Rock, Ill. (Hardin County.) via Harrisburg, Ill., and that work will begin at once.

We long ago knew that this was the feasible route for the next railroad construction in Southern Illinois for many reasons but until the last few days did not positively know that we were to have "our way" in the matter, but we are, hurrah! We have already burned this summer's old straw hat for we are going to buy us a better one for next year—just have to do it when the railroad gets here. Do you people over at Marion, Ky., also understand what is meant next, and are you all ready, over there? If not, hadn't you better get busy, and look it up!—Hardin Era.

A GREAT MEETING

One of the most forceful demonstrations of what cooperation can accomplish is shown this week in Boston at the ninth annual convention of the stockholders of the United Drug Company.

In many ways this convention is unique. I doubt if any other single organization has accomplished what the United Drug Company has succeeded in doing in such a short time. Stockholders with their families, numbering some 2000, are here from every section of the United States and Canada, while others came from distant places, such as England, Hawaii and the West Indies. These are all representative business men, each the leading druggist in his respective town and no two men are from the same place. Not a few had to travel many days to make the trip to Boston. It is noticeable, also, that many of these people have been coming to these conventions year after year, showing most conclusively an earnest interest in the sessions as well as proving the value of the gatherings.

Tuesday morning Mr. Louis K. Liggett, president of the company, called the meeting to order, and introduced his Hon. or Mayor John F. Fitzgerald. In his address of welcome the mayor assured the stockholders that Boston not only appreciated the coming of the visitors, but recognized that they represented one of the biggest commercial assets that Boston had, and told of the struggle that other cities had made to take the company away from Boston. He paid a tribute to the loyalty of the stockholders, and commended them for leaving their homes to attend the convention; at the same time he assured them that with his knowledge of the United Drug Company's affairs and the personnel of its management, he felt quite safe in saying that they would be well repaid for their attendance, and predicted that those who had never attended one of these conventions before would look eagerly forward to those that are coming in the future. concluded by saying that it afforded him a great deal of pleasure in extending a hearty greeting and welcome to the stockholders and to feel assured that the freedom of the city was theirs. At the conclusion of his address, Mayor Fitzgerald was given a genuine ovation.

When the regular business of the session was resumed, President Liggett reviewed the work of the company for the past year, which showed the tremendous growth of the concern in that time. He then traced its progress from its organization nine years ago. His report showed that the company's laboratories now occupy nearly ten acres of floor space, employs about 1200 people, with an annual pay-roll amounting to nearly a million dollars. Where the company a little more than eight years ago had but 32 stockholders, it today has close up to 5000. He told of the plans for the future, showing that it was necessary to immediately commence work upon new buildings to keep pace with the increased growth.

Mr. Liggett explained the great work the company accomplished in producing pure drugs, products that the public and practitioners could depend upon, and produce at the lowest possible prices consistent with quality. Moreover, he showed that drug store service within the zone of the operations of the company had been greatly improved. He stated that it was gratifying to know that in the eyes of the public the druggist who could call his store "The Rexall Store," was considered the leading and most dependable druggist in his community. He complimented the stockholders on the splendid work they had done to deserve this high esteem.

The regular order of business was then followed with discussions of various topics of interest to the trade and importance to the public. The motive actuating most of these discussions was a determined effort to still further advance the sale of pure drugs and discourage the introduction and sale of questionable preparations.

While the stockholders were holding their business meeting, the ladies of the party were taken to various points of interest by the ladies' committee, some going on shopping excursions, others to the Museum of Fine Art, where a special lecture had been arranged, while others went to the Boston Public Library. In the evening the entire party attended the Colonial Theatre, and witnessed the performance of the "Red Widow" in which Raymond Hitchcock was the star supported by a very fine cast. It was necessary for the United Drug Company to secure the largest theatre in the city in order to accommodate the entire party, the general public not being admitted. Between the acts the ladies were presented with boxes of Liggett's chocolates.

On Wednesday the stockholders held a meeting in the morning. At 12:15 the entire party took special cars for a trip to the Lynway Club, Revere Beach. This is one of the largest clubhouses in the country, and had been reserved for the exclusive use of the stockholders. After a delightful lunch, a special performance of an old-fashioned one-ring circus was given, which was followed by a splendid programme of very unique and entertaining outdoor sports. In the evening a genuine New England shore dinner was served, after which there was dancing, the music being furnished by two orchestras. This affair presented delightful carnival features, enhanced by the unique costumes of the participants, all making a most attractive sight.

On Thursday, the last day of the session, a most interesting meeting was held under the auspices of the State Rexall Clubs, at which there was a general interchange of experiences and accomplishments. During the meeting the ladies were taken in automobiles around the places made historic in Revolutionary days. Shortly after noon the ladies and stockholders were entertained at luncheon in the laboratories of the company, after which an inspection of the great building was made. Late in the afternoon the entire party was taken in special cars to the new candy factory, where the process of manufacturing confections in its various stages was demonstrated.

Altogether, the outcome of the convention must be regarded as a distinct benefit to the public, inasmuch as the aim and purpose of the company is for still better product and progressive store methods, and these essentials were made the subject, in one form or another, by the speakers at the various meetings during the week.

The affair of the week was brought to a close in the evening by a banquet held in the great hall of the Arena. It proved to be one of the most brilliant affairs ever held here.

One of the most interesting events of the week was the inspection of the "Children's Playground," recently opened by the company on its property on Huntington Avenue, Corner of Greenleaf street. The grounds are excellently suited for the purpose, and are equipped with all manner of appliances to amuse the children, and is visited daily by hundreds of little ones from that section of the city.

Keep The Dollar At Home.

Ten years ago a Kansas farmer put his initials on a dollar bill. The next day he went to the nearest town and spent it with a merchant. Before the year was out he had got the dollar bill back. Four times in six years the dollar bill came back to him for produce, and three times he heard of it in the pockets of his neighbors. The last time he got it back was four years ago. He sent it to a mail order house. He has never seen that dollar since, nor never will. That dollar will never pay any more school or road tax for him, will not build or brighten any of the homes for the community. He sent it entirely out of the circle of usefulness to himself and his neighbors.—Exchange.

Tree That Holds Up A Millstone.

One of the most interesting freaks in the eastern part of the United States is the tree which has been growing through a millstone for thirty-five years, and which, in the course of its life, has lifted its heavy burden two feet and a half from the ground.

Thirty-five years ago the millstone, having outlived its usefulness, was thrown out from Sheldon's Mill, near South Dover, N. Y. It fell in such a manner that the square hole in its centre rested directly over a little shoot. There the stone remained while the shoot developed into a tree. Then the forces of nature, acting through the sap of the tree, became impatient of its burden, and strove to free themselves of it by lifting it from the ground. But the stone remained, and will remain unless the hand of man removes it, fixed around the living tree, like a collar of servitude. But it has not remained with its underside to the ground. As the tree has grown, the millstone, like some strange, new, unwonted kind of fruit coming not from the branches but from the parent stem has been lifted from the ground, ever higher and higher as its unwilling bearer has waxed in height and girth, until now the stone is two feet and a half from the ground.—New York World.
